Profile

Experienced and committed consultant with more than 15 years of experience, I have worked with multidisciplinary and multicultural teams. I have served as an officer and program manager and in my last jobs as Executive Director and Country Manager. I consider myself a talented person who knows how to deal with people, to know how to listen with attention, creating empathy and establishing harmonious relations in a friendly manner and with respect. I have been able to coordinate people and teams of 15-35 members as Executive Director and Coordinator of programs, always trying to motivate staff by creating a productive work environment and mutual respect. I have also formulated new proposals for different donors and international agencies, obtaining good results and being accountable within the established times, developed financial and narrative reports for national and international agencies; in addition, I have served as an independent consultant in various development projects for rural and urban communities.
